

Frys.com Open Picks 2011

The players picked here may or may not be the best players in the world. The players chosen either finished in the top 20s or better in recent events or finished in the top 20 at the Frys.com event over the past few years.

Tiger Woods – Woods could not pick up a club for 3 years and he'd still be the favorite going into any tournament.

Ben Crane – Crane has played well in this tournament in the past and it looks like his game might be coming around with a top 10 finish at the Timberlake tourney last week.

Kevin Stadler – Stadler finished 6th last year at the Frys.com and had a top 25 finish last week at the Timberlake tourney.

Paul Casey – Casey is coming off a European win and if he's starting to play well, which a win might indicate, then he could easily pull off 2 in a row, he's also one of the top ranked players in the field at the Frys.com.

Chad Campbell – Campbell is on a trend and could contend here considering he's had a couple of top 20 finishes at the Frys.com.

Brandt Jobe – Jobe had a top 10 finish last week and may continue to play well considering his trend as well.

Pat Perez – Perez has a couple of top 10 finishes at the Frys.com and is also a player on a positive trend finish over the past couple of tourneys he's played.

Bryce Molder – Molder is another player who seems to be playing well with a top 10 finish last week and he has a top 10 finish at the Frys.com also.

Justin Leonard – Leonard hasn't teed it up since August, but finished 23rd at the Wyndham, he's also posted a couple of top 25 finishes at the Frys.com.

Tommy Gainey – Gainey finished 3rd last week, he could be on a roll and contend again this week.

Others to consider:

Alex Prugh, Louis Oosthuizen, Kevin Na, Paul Goydos, Chris Stroud, Rocco Mediate, Tim Herron, Ernie Els, Troy Matteson, Spencer Levin